EXAMPLES AND EXPLANATIONS

1) go well

1. Present tense + future tense

Mary and Pete get along so well. I'm sure their relationship will work out.

- get along (well) = a phrasal verb that means “to have a good relationship”
 - o Do you get along with your coworkers?
 - o I get along really well with everyone at work.
 - o No, I don't get along with anyone.

2. Present continuous

We need to change our strategy; this one isn't working out.

- CHANGE X MOVE
- move = location or posture
 - o I moved 3 times last year. (I lived in three different places)
 - o Can you help me move the couch to the other side of the room?
- change - career, name, your mind, your personality “to become different than before”
 - o Johnny has changed so much since high school. He used to be really funny and now he's so serious.
 - o I changed my mind. I don't want to be a teacher anymore. I want to be a dentist instead.

3. Past simple

The students had some trouble with the project, but it worked out and they presented it to the class.

- PREsent (noun) “the current moment” or “a gift” x preSENT (verb) “to deliver or demonstrate something”
 - o I got you a birthday present (PREsent).
 - o I'm so nervous. I have to present (presENT) my thesis today.

2) to exercise

4. Present perfect continuous

Wow, you look really good! Have you been working out?

MÓDULO 01 - WORK OUT

5. Past perfect + past simple

I had planned on working out in the morning, but my car broke down.

- break down = phrasal verb that means “break” or “stop working” used with vehicles (cars, trucks, busses, trains, etc.)

6. Conditionals (first conditional)

I'll start working out if you start making breakfast. Deal?

- Deal? - Okay?/ Do we agree to this arrangement?

7. Modals (would) + second conditional

Charlie would work out more if he had more time.

3) resolver

8. Present tense

Don't worry, these situations tend to work themselves out.

9. Present continuous

We're working out this problem.

OR We're working this problem out. (separable)

10. Past simple

The couple argued about the temperature of the air conditioner, but eventually they worked it out.

DISCUSS X ARGUE

- discuss = have a conversation
 - o That's a fantastic idea. Let's discuss it at the meeting.
- argue = verbally fight
 - o Everyone in the whatsapp group is arguing about the political situation.
